Hi Fall Students

This announcement just came in. I've not had students here but it looks like a good opportunity for those interested in presidential campaigns and international affairs. Details below. - sl

Center for U.S. Global Engagement

Intern

About the Center:

The Center for U.S. Global Engagement unites business, NGO and community leaders to build understanding of America's interest in today's world. We engage these citizens to educate and inspire support among the public, opinion leaders and policymakers for U.S. assistance and engagement in international affairs. The Center is the educational arm of the highly successful U.S. Global Leadership Campaign (USGLC), a coalition of over 400 businesses and organizations that advocates for increased funding for the U.S. International Affairs Budget.

Responsibilities will include:

- Tracking 2008 Presidential nominees, their staff, and news related to the campaigns
- Aiding in planning and executing the Center's events in D.C. and across the country
- Supporting Center staff as needed

Position Requirements:

Strong applicants will have an interest in international affairs and a working knowledge of the U.S. political process. Experience working on a political campaign and/or a grassroots advocacy campaign is a plus. Applicants must be willing to assist with all aspects of the Center, including some administrative tasks. Graduate and undergraduate internships are available. Scheduling can be flexible to accommodate class schedules, if necessary.

To Apply:

Please email cover letter and resume to Madeleine Pryor at madeleine@usglobalengagement.org. No calls, please.
