Hello Fall Interns –

I just received the brief announcement below from one of our students interning this summer with the Democratic Caucus. This would be a great internship for students looking for experience on Capitol Hill and who want close involvement with election politics coming up this Fall. More info on the organization can be found at: <http://www.dems.gov/>

- Joaquin

Leadership office in the House of Representatives seeks motivated and responsible individuals for multiple internships this fall. The positions will include administrative and organizational duties in addition to research work and an opportunity to attend a number of meetings and hearings on the Hill. Students will have the opportunity to interact with many Members of Congress. Previous Hill or administrative experience is preferred but not required. These positions are unpaid but students may receive school credit. Please send a resume, cover letter, references and contact information to marissa.smith@mail.house.gov.

Come work for the Democratic majority!
