

COMMUNICATION MAJOR AND MINOR

MAJOR AND MINOR SUBSTITUTIONS

Many UCD Majors and Minors incorporate credits earned while completing an internship and/or an independent research project. Students in some programs have been able to use their Washington Program Internship (WAS 192) and Research Seminar (WAS 199) credits as substitutions for their major or minor requirements.

Check with your advisor to see if you can do this as well!

INTERNSHIP IDEAS

Some of the places in Washington DC where students with an interest in Communication could intern:

US Department of Justice: Civil Rights Division: Coordination and Review Section
US Department of Justice: Civil Rights Division: Voting Section
TechNet
Office of Representative George Radanovich
Latin American Youth Center

This is not a complete list! Please e-mail us at washingtonprogram@ucdavis.edu or visit us in our offices on the 2nd floor of South Hall to learn about more internship opportunities.

QUOTES FROM STUDENTS:

“Going to the capital for my internship every morning was something I enjoyed and a place I wanted to be. The Capital is a great place to be, good people to work with and atmosphere.”

“I truly feel that my internship with the U.S. Department of Justice greatly contributed to me getting the most out of my experience in Washington D.C. The internship taught me not only about how the conscience of the Department of Justice functions (Civil Rights Division), but has taught me about myself and what I am really looking for in my career.”

This internship has not only helped me apply my major (communications) and my minor (African & African American studies) to my work, but also helped me build experience which is highly valuable to a pre-law student.... I was informed that this knowledge will put me ahead of many students entering in law school, which will also make me more competitive in my field.”
