LATIN MINOR

MINOR SUBSTITUTIONS

Many UCD Majors and Minors incorporate credits earned while completing an internship and/or an independent research project. Students in some programs have been able to use their Washington Program Internship (WAS 192) and Research Seminar (WAS 193) credits as substitutions for their major or minor requirements.
Check with your advisor to see if you can do this as well!

INTERNSHIP IDEAS

Some of the places in Washington DC where students with an interest in Latin could intern include:

National Geographic Society	Humanities Council of Washington D.C.
National Gallery of Art	Smithsonian
International Child Art Foundation	Capital Children's Museum
Natural History Museum

This is not a complete list! Please e-mail washingtonprogram@ucdavis.edu or visit us in our offices on the 2nd floor of South Hall to learn about more internship opportunities.

QUOTES FROM STUDENTS:

"From this internship, I have gained a thorough knowledge of cataloguing items used by the standards set by the Library of Congress. Because I am considering a possible future in the museum industry, working in the archives has given me the opportunity to observe the daily routine of the archivists, from their assistance to researchers to their work supporting the museum curators. I'm glad I was able to stick my foot in the door with this internship at one of the Smithsonian museums."

"Although the International Child Art Foundation is far from being a large corporation or political oriented association, it has provided me with a unique opportunity to experience first-hand the workings of a small, non-profit organization. As in any environment, whether personal relationships, schoolwork, or extracurricular activities, the internship asked me to apply various skills and abilities that I have acquired throughout the course of my development as an individual. What I learned that most applies to the concepts from my academic major and other class work, is that the world has become so greatly interconnected that every event in someway impacts another event, person, or even organization for that matter."
